

Zug, April 26th, 2024

STOXX announces results of the Annual Country Classification for STOXX World indices effective September 23rd, 2024

Dear Customer,

STOXX Ltd. today announced the results of the Annual Country Classification for the STOXX World indices.

As of September 23rd, 2024, out of the 68 countries in the STOXX index universe, 23 are classified as Developed Markets, 23 are classified as Emerging Markets, 16 are classified as Frontier, and 6 are Non-Classified. A full list of countries including their classification can be found under the dedicated country classification section of the STOXX website: <https://www.stoxx.com/country-classification>.

There will be no changes in the classification of the 68 countries in the STOXX index universe.

The intermediary results indicated Argentina, Bulgaria, China, Cyprus, Iceland, Ireland, Luxembourg, New Zealand and Thailand as oscillating between classification levels. These countries will be captured in the Watch List and maintain their last classification levels, following a STOXX governance decision and in line with section 4.3 of the STOXX Index Methodology Guide.

Country	STOXX World Country Classification (Intermediary Results)	Watch List	STOXX World Country Classification (Final Results)
Argentina	Emerging	Yes	Frontier
Bulgaria	Frontier	Yes	Non-Classified
China	Frontier	Yes	Emerging
Cyprus	Frontier	Yes	Non-Classified
Iceland	Emerging	Yes	Frontier
Ireland	Emerging	Yes	Developed
Luxembourg	Emerging	Yes	Non-Classified
New Zealand	Emerging	Yes	Developed
Thailand	Frontier	Yes	Emerging

The STOXX WORLD Country Classification Model is rules-based and transparent. The criteria for the classification of a country as a developed, emerging or frontier market include macroeconomic data, market capitalization, market liquidity, free currency convertibility on on-shore and off-shore markets, restrictions on capital flows, governance based on political stability, control of corruption and regulatory quality, and restrictions on foreign investments.

For more information on the STOXX indices, please visit www.qontigo.com